Projects (selection)

- 2016-2018 Regional Arts Indices. A series of conversations with regional level arts and policy stakeholders, held in 2016, on the need for and possible content of regional arts indices. In 2017-2018 a pilot ran in the 5 largest municipalities in the province of Noord-Brabant to collect data on 'new indicators'. For and with Boekman, Study center for arts, culture and related policy. Part of the large-scale Waarde van cultuur project.
- 2015-2018 Visual Artists and their Socio-Economic Status. A nationwide pre-study on what indicators and data are needed to provide sustainable insight in the socio-economic position of visual artists. For BKNL, a national platform of visual arts organisations. First edition in 2016, second in 2017, third in 2018.
- 2017 BK-Data Update. Updating BK-Data, a longitudinal dataset on visual artists' visibility in the circuits of national-level visual arts' grants, acquisitions, and commissions between 1947 and 2007. The update covered the 2008-2016 years and included a new data collection on visual artists' presentations in art institutions in the Netherlands in 2016. For Mondriaan Fonds, national fund for the visual arts.
- 2015-2017 Vitality Amateur Arts. Coaching professionals at Kunstbalie, support organisation for amateur arts in the province of Noord-Brabant, to conceptualize indicators and collect data on the vitality of the (organized forms of) amateur arts. Next, running a pilot in 3 municipalities to test the indicator set.
- 2014-2018 Cultural Benchmark Noord-Brabant and Culture Atlas Noord-Brabant. Providing insights in relative position of arts in the province of Noord-Brabant building on insights from the Arts Index Netherlands. The benchmark is followed by an Atlas with which key cultural organisations in Brabant are monitored on finances, performances, and themes relevant in the arts today. The latest, third edition of the Culturele Atlas will be launched in 2018.
- 2015-2017 Monitor Freelancers and the Media 2015. Start in 2015 of yearly monitoring work and income, copy right issues and negotiation of freelancers working for the media (journalists, photographers, writers, graphic designers) in the Netherlands, for six national media professional organisations.
- 2015-2018 ACT Monitor 2015. Start in 2015 of two-yearly monitoring work and income issues of professional actors in the Netherlands, for ACT, actors' interests. The monitor was rerun in 2018.
- 2014 Active Cultural Participation. On behalf of the National Centre of Expertise for Cultural Education and Amateur Arts (LKCA) new and existing data are analyzed on, among others, motives of individual, informal group, and formally organized forms of active cultural participation as well as ways of coping with a changing professional world by art teachers and artistic coaches.
- 2013 Arts Index Netherlands. Coordinating the data collection for the Dutch 'Cultuurindex', an index measuring the 'health and vitality of arts and culture', e.g. by tapping the financial flows to the sector, the supply-side, participation (and volunteering), and 'market share' (e.g. the share of donations to culture). For Boekman and SCP, The Netherlands Institute for Social Research.

- 2013 Trends in Rates of Writers Journalists and Photographers. NVJ, the Netherlands' Association of Journalists, commissioned a nationwide study into the trends in the rates that freelance journalists, writers, and photographers charge for their work. The study also addresses copy right issues, negotiations with media, and aspirations of journalists, writers, and photographers as regards future developments of freelancers' rates and the impact on their professional status.
- 2012 Social Segmentation of Music Education. For FCP, Fund for Cultural Participation secondary analyses of several datasets with which to evaluate FCP policies on cultural participation in provincial and municipal contexts and on social segmentation of music education programmes aimed at broadening the social reach of these programmes. In close collaboration with Cultuurnetwerk Nederland, Utrecht, Netherlands
